FIRST READING

Isaiah 60.1–6

PSALM 72.1–7, 10–14  Deus, iudicium

Give the King thy judgements, O God • and thy righteousness unto the King's son.

Then shall he judge thy people according unto right • [-] and defend the poor.

The mountains also shall bring peace • and the little hills righteousness unto the people.

He shall keep the simple folk by their right • defend the children of the poor, and punish the wrong doer.

They shall fear thee, as long as the sun and moon endureth • from one generation to another.

He shall come down like the rain into a fleece of wool • even as the drops that water the earth.

In his time shall the righteous flourish • yea, an abundance of peace, so long as the moon endureth.

The kings of Tharsis and of the isles shall give presents • the kings of Arabia and Saba shall bring gifts.

All kings shall fall down before him • all nations shall do him service. For he shall deliver the poor when he crieth • the needy also, and him that hath no helper.

He shall be favourable to the simple and needy • and shall preserve the souls of the poor.

He shall deliver their souls from falsehood and wrong • and dear shall their blood be in his sight.

He shall live, and unto him shall be given of the gold of Arabiâ • prayer shall be made ever unto him, and daily shall he be praised.
